

Top-Up Fellowships for Recruiting New Graduate Students

The Holtz Center announces its 2018 competition for top-up fellowships for admitted graduate students. The fellowships are designed to help recruit graduate students who plan to work on topics in science and technology studies, construed broadly. We will offer up to five two-year fellowships. Each fellowship totals $4000 distributed over two years.

Open to incoming students in any department that includes faculty who are members of the Holtz Center.
