The Death and Life of the Great Lakes
Undergraduate Essay Contest!

Are you a UW-Madison undergraduate writing about The Death and Life of the Great Lakes? Are you thinking about connections between humans, animals, and other beings? Submit your essay and win a cash prize!

Submissions due May 10th to multispeciesUW@gmail.com

Organized by the Environmental Justice in Multispecies Worlds research group, the contest seeks essays about the shared worlds of humans and nonhumans around the Great Lakes, particularly essays focused on environmental justice and social justice.

Submission length is open-ended. The winning essays will receive a cash prize and an offer of publication in Illumination.

Visit go.wisc.edu/multispecies to learn more!